Vote For Allison

At the election Tuesday voters of this county have the opportunity to put the Superior Court of this county in the class where over a period of years it has stood, highly respected and carrying the confidence of the people.

The antics of a Superior Court Judge during the past few weeks would not be considered creditable to any Superior Court, but the people of this county should be thankful that in Charles L. Allison there is opportunity to elect a Superior Judge who has the poise, the experience and the ability to fill the position of Superior Court Judge with credit to this county.

Mr. Allison comes from a family well-known over a period of years in this county. He has practiced law in this county for many years and stands foremost among the members of the bar association.

On Tuesday vote for Charles L. Allison for Judge of the Superior Court.

Howell For Assemblyman

During the campaign which comes to a close Tuesday, when the voters will decide the various issues, The News has endeavored to get before its readers the candidacy of Elmer L. Howell of Chino for Assemblyman. Governor Richardson has two years more to serve, and as he was elected on an economy platform, voters should assist him in his work by sending to the Assembly of the State members who will assist him. Mr. Howell has known the Governor for several years and believes that his economy platform should be thoroughly tried out before the Governor's term closes. A vote for Mr. Howell assures voters that this district will be represented by an Assemblyman who will endeavor to co-operate with Governor Richardson in continuing economical procedure in state business.

Phil D. Swing for Congress

The News is firm in the opinion that Phil D. Swing should be the next Congressman from this district. He has served in Washington creditably every session of his district and with the knowledge he has of the needs of the district combined with the energy he puts into his work, voters may feel assured that their best interests will be served.

GREAT MUSIC ON SUNDAY CONCERT

A grand selection of the best arias from Puccini's "La Boheme" and Schubert's beautiful overture, "Rosamunde" are two of the high spots in the program of the Pomona Municipal Band at Ganesha Park next Sunday afternoon. COULD GET TWO

An Englishman was on a walking tour, and as he reached the outskirts of a town he espied an old man standing on the bridge staring contemplatively at the river.

Going up to him he inquired, pleasantly: "Can you tell me where I can get a good glass of whiskey in this village?"

The old man smiled gently and shook his head.

"No-no, I can't do that mister," he replied, "but I can tell you where you can get two."

A surprise party is seldom an unexpected occurrence.

4-WHEEL BRAKES THROW CAR INTO SKID-CLAIMSTARTS AROUND TRUCK,
CHANGES HIS MIND,
THEN BLEW-EE

Brakes on Fore-Wheels Operate, Those on Rear Fail and Crash Results. Ligaments in Right Leg of Driver Torn.

Four-wheel brakes were today held responsible by the Upland police for an accident on West Twelfth street in which two cars were almost totally wrecked and two men were injured. The accident occurred when the front wheel brakes on a touring car driven by Arthur M. Moulton of 3985 Normandie street, Los Angeles, took hold, while those on the rear wheels failed to function properly, with the result that his machine skidded about broadside and struck a roadster driven by G. H. Pledger of 1706 Linden street, Oakland.

According to report to the police, Moulton was driving west on Twelfth street, and was nearing the Los Angeles-San Bernardino county line when he overtook a large truck, also going west. The Angeleno had started around the truck when he observed Pledger headed east and realized that he would not have time to get around.

Turning back toward the right hand side of the road, Moulton applied his foot brakes and all would have been well, it is said, had it not been for the fact that the brake attachment on the fore wheels took hold with such violence as to lock them, while the rear wheel brakes failed to take hold, with the result that the hind end of the touring car swung swiftly out into the left side of the roadway, striking the front of the Oakland machine and practically demolishing it.

Mr. Pledger sustained torn ligaments about the right leg and was painfully bruised, while Mr. Moulton was severely cut about the face. Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer and Traffic Officer Louis E. Kronmeyer, who investigated the accident, were on the point of arresting the Los Angeles man on a reckless-driving charge, when he explained that the failure of his four-wheel brakes had been responsible and an investigation seemed to bear out his contention.

Officers stated today that the front wheel brakes were so firmly locked that it was only with the greatest difficulty that they could be released sufficiently to permit of towing the car to a garage. The injured men were taken to local doctors, who attended their injuries.

CHINO HORSES
WIN HONORS

The San Joaquin County Fair night horse show opened at Stockton last night under most favorable conditions. Three of the "best classes ever shown in the west made the night eventful."

Golden Lady, owned by Miss Cecilia Hoyt de Mille of Hollywood, won first in the class for three gaited horses, with Choice Sattinet, owned by P. E. Bowles, second, and Coolidge, third.

There were eight horses in the heavy harness class. Netherall's Pride, owned by Mrs. W. P. Roth of San Francisco, first; Frivolity and Vanity Fair, second and third, owned by Mrs. Winslow Anderson of Santa Rosa; Seaton Luster, owned by R. L. English, Chino, fourth.

Lady of the Evening, owned by Irving H. Hellman, of Los Angeles, won the Wave $500 stakes for fine harness horses.

A Nobleman, owned by Mrs. C. A. Duncan, second; and Mary Frances Gay, owned by Mrs. D. Cunningham, third, and Patricia Lee, owned by R. L. English, fourth.

Swedish automotive engineers have patented an automatic warning light for railway crossings, a slot machine for filling fuel tanks and a device to prevent a car from running out of battery.

HOFFMAN, FLYNN
ARE INNOCENT,
POPULAR BELIEF

It is generally believed at Claremont that Will J. Flynn and Al H. Hoffman, general manager and treasurer of the American Crushed Rock company, are innocent of taking part of the company's funds for private use, and that the charges made against them are the work of certain other of the officers of the concern as part of an attempt to put Flynn out of the company, according to statements made by persons familiar with the inside of the case. Reports of Flynn's and Hoffman's being in jail in default of $10,000 bonds are not true, for that neither of the men is or has been in jail is the statement of P. D. Richards, superintendent of the American Crushed Rock company's plant.

E. W. Grannis, former president of the concern, who filed the charges against Flynn and Hoffman, no longer holds his office. The company has secured for its presidency D. A. Foley, said to be one of the biggest contractors in his line in North America. J. C. Naylor, former secretary, who is said to be in league with Grannis, has been replaced by a Los Angeles man, Wallace Hoffman continues in the capacity of treasurer, and Flynn, as general manager, appears to be even more solidly established in his position than before.

Warrants for the arrest of Flynn and Hoffman were served on August 6, after Grannis had made other efforts to get Flynn out of the company. It is said that Grannis and his colleagues have been attempting for some time to gain the controlling interest in the company, now held by Flynn, Hoffman, and others. Failing in his attempt to do this, Grannis accused the general manager and treasurer of using some of the company's funds to further their own interests, it is said.

MANY DEERS SAID TO BE IN MOUNTAINS

While reports reaching here from different parts of San Bernardino County indicate that deer and dove hunting will be good, local sporting goods dealers claim that the most reliable criterion on hunting conditions is shown in the number of licenses secured by prospective hunters.

Dove season in San Bernardino County will open Sept. 1, and the deer season will start Sept. 16, closing Oct. 15.

Deer hunting in Inyo and Mono Counties is going to be greater sport this season than in several years, according to a report of conditions in those counties received this morning.

With the season opening only ten days off in those counties, local sportsmen and hunters are expected to form numerous expeditions to the deer-infested country. The hunting season in this and several other Southern California counties will not open until Sept. 16.

Reports from all over the Inyo and Mono district indicate that there are more deer there than for several years, due to the dry season bringing deer down from the high peaks to the grass and water in lower meadows.

Fires in Sequoia forest have also driven deer north into this district. Good shooting should be had out of Little Lake, Cowan Station, Alancha, Lone Pine, Independence, Big Pine and June Lake.

While the deer season does not open in the southern counties until Sept. 16—closing Oct. 15—it is pointed out that the dove season opens on Sept. 1.

In Los Angeles County, however, an ordinance has been passed prohibiting hunting and smoking on property outside city limits, except on one's own property. No such action has been taken in this county, but guards are warning people entering the mountains about the danger of forest fires.

OPEN HOUSE AT THE
UPLAND PUBLIC LIBRARY

THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, IS DATE SELECTED

Hours Are From One O'clock Until Ten P. M. Concert Chosen that Public May Enjoy Music and Visit Library.

In accordance with the usual custom open house will be kept on Thursday the 28th, at the Upland Public Library, celebrating the opening in August, 1913, as a free library. On this date also an opportunity will be given to the public to donate any book that has been read and enjoyed to either the library or to the new hospital.

The date chosen is on a band concert night so that one trip will take care of the two events. The hours will be from one o'clock to ten continuous, thus giving those who come early to the concert a chance to visit the library before the concert, and the later ones a chance following the program.

The new San Antonio Community Hospital has shelves for books, the donation of the Business and Professional Women's Club, in the southeast room, which will hold several hundred books. On the opening day of the hospital about fifty books were in place, the gift of the public library, which were third and fourth copies and which had been given by friends of the library to that institution. The Business and Professional Women's Club members have had book plates printed with the following on them "San Antonio Community Hospital Library Gift of —" and in each book one plate will be pasted.

This work will be carried on by the club it is hoped through the years to come. And it is to help with this work that donations of books are asked for at this time as well as to add books to the different departments of the public library. It is hoped the librarian may exercise the privilege of placing the books donated in the place best suited to them. In any case the wish of the person giving the book will be considered first.

FIRE DEPARTMENT
HINDERED IN RUN TO FIRES WHEN
CARS FOLLOW

It has been called to my attention that the Volunteer Fire Department of Upland is being hampered and endangered in their work of putting out fires by the people who start an auto chase after the fire truck when the siren announces a fire alarm. I have been present myself when the siren started and have seen several people start their engines, wait till the fire truck had reached the bank corner and had taken on its load of fire-fighters, and then start a merry auto-chase after the truck.

In the early days of a city, and especially in the horse days, a crowd of people was not only of no hindrance, but might have been of assistance in bucket brigades, etc. But as a city grows, has an efficient fire department and special fire-fighting equipment, this automobile procession is a distinct hindrance to the fire-fighters, a menace to the city through such hindrance, and of great danger to the automobiles themselves. I have seen photographs of fires where the private automobiles had become so mixed with the fire trucks that the owners had to leave them to be smashed and burned by the fire trucks; where their presence had made it difficult or impossible to properly lay the hose or place the trucks, and where added fire was started through the explosion of the gasoline tanks.

Some cities have ordinances to stop just this menace. In some

OWN ATTORNEY

Acting as his own attorney, Leslie A. Linkogel successfully defended himself on a charge of ignoring the traffic laws in the Mill Creek control before a jury in Justice Jerome B. Kavanaugh's court yesterday, being acquitted.

Linkogel examined the state's witnesses, and during the course of the trial a bitter argument between the defendant and Thomas Goodman, caretaker at the control house, was heard. Goodman asserted that Linkogel cursed and threatened him when arrested. Linkogel and one of the defense witnesses, W. H. Strehlen, denied the charge.

Linkogel disregarded the one-way traffic law governing the travel in the control between Mill Creek and Santa Ana Canyons, it was charged by Goodman and C. J. Boone, captain of the state traffic squad in the county. Linkogel denied that he violated the law and his testimony was supported by passengers in his car when the arrest occurred several weeks ago.

HOME COUNTY IS STRONG FOR SWING

All Cities and Towns Are Invited to Meeting On Friday Night

That Congressman Phil D. Swing will poll the largest majority ever given a candidate for Congress in San Bernardino county, was announced yesterday at the Swing-for-Congress headquarters in San Bernardino, where boyhood friends of the congressman are in charge of his campaign.

Mr. Swing was born in San Bernardino. It is really his home, for there reside his mother, brothers and sister.

San Bernardino county is vitally interested in the Boulder canyon dam project, the bill to authorize which Congressman Swing is the author. Many communities of the county are planning to avail themselves either of water or power, or both, when the great water conservation and power project is completed.

A county meeting will be held on Friday night of this week at San Bernardino in the climax of the Swing campaign. Efforts are being made to have large delegations present from every city and town in San Bernardino county. The meeting will be held at Pioneer Park. There will be a band concert to open the meeting.

All factionalism in the Republican party has been put aside in the united support for Mr. Swing, as a man and congressman of whom San Bernardino county is proud, the committee points out. In the city of San Bernardino a large group of life-long friends is directing the campaign, which has as its purpose the polling of as large a vote as possible. The idea of the committee is to give Mr. Swing a tremendous vote in San Bernardino county. The larger the vote at the polls, the greater the

CONTRACTOR UNABLE TO PAY AS EMPLOYER FAILED HIM

Attorneys Pollock & Mitchell Represents Hollenbaugh who Holds Contractor Wisely's Note for the Amount Due.

Frank Hollenbaugh of San Antonio Heights today filed suit in Judge Geo. R. Crane's court against A. M. Wisely, well-known Upland building contractor, to collect $74 alleged due on a note bearing date of April 25, 1924, together with interest at the rate of 7 per cent and 10 per cent additional for attorney's fees.

According to report, Hollenbaugh and a number of others were several months ago engaged by Wisely on a large contracting job on the desert. All went well for a few weeks, it is said, until the concern which had awarded Wisely the contract "blew-up." In as much as the Upland contractor, himself, received no remuneration, he claimed that he was unable to pay him.

Hollenbaugh, however, secured a note from the contractor and it is for its collection that he is now suing. The wording of the note specifies that if suit is brought for its collection, there shall be an additional 10 per cent due for attorney's fees.

Mr. Hollenbaugh is represented in his action by Attorneys Pollock and Mitchell of Ontario. No date for the hearing of the case has yet been fixed.

NAME DAVE SMITH
RED HILL PRO.

Following a meeting of the newly organized greens committee of Red Hill Country club yesterday, recommendation was made that Dave Smith, late of the Tulare Country club, be named to succeed "Cy" Johnston as golf professional at the popular west end club.

Smith and his family are all golfers of note in the southland. Not only is he one of the outstanding professionals of Southern California, but his son is one of the leading amateurs of the country. His daughter also ranks high among women players.

Invitation has been extended Mr. Smith to meet with the greens committee to complete final arrangements for his taking over the new work at Red Hill Country club.

Johnston's resignation from Red Hill does not become effective until the first of October. He is still continuing his duties at Red Hill, but a little later he will assume his new work as professional at Los Serranos Country club near Chino.

Dave Smith's recommendations to Red Hill Country club from southland clubs are of the highest caliber.

Avoid extremes, and shun the fault of such Who still are pleased too little or too much. —Pope Majority will be rolled up in San Bernardino county to offset a possible large majority for his opponent in the latter's home county of San Diego. San Bernardino county can overcome anything San Diego may do if the local vote is rolled up. It is declared by the Swing committeemen.

Accusations False Say Newspapers and are Made for Political Purposes Only. Suits in the Courts will Probably be Filed Following Election Against Those Making the Charges.

Driven into a corner, with every indication that the voters were going to stage a landslide against them on election day, the Olney-Seecombe Holier than Thou political machine had to do something in order to halt the onward march against them.

So they used their section of the county grand jury and with former Tax Collector L. A. Desmond as their auditor, accused the Redlands Facts, the San Bernardino Sun and the Ontario Daily Report of "padding" the delinquent tax list and thus robbing the county.

Over a period of several years a certain "style" has been used in publishing the delinquent list, that is a blank slug one-twelfth of an inch, has been placed between each delinquent item, thus making the list much easier to handle in reading as well in clipping the separate items. For several weeks every effort has evidently been put forth to find something wrong in county business by supporters of Judge Jesse Olney, that the candidacy of Judge Olney might be bolstered up. The days passed and the chances for Olney's re-election were growing weaker each day—so with former County Tax Collector Desmond as auditor, it was suddenly discovered that the county had been robbed by its foremost daily newspapers.

When L. A. Desmond was tax collector several publications of the tax list were published using the same style as is now used, that of separating each delinquent item with a blank slug one-twelfth of an inch wide. During Mr. Desmond's incumbency and even before that the same style had been used, but all of a sudden and as the only thing they could find wrong in county business, a special report of the grand jury now calls it "padding" and claims that the San Bernardino Sun owes the county $457.76; that the Daily Report should pay the county $435.36 and that the Redlands Facts has over-charged the county to the extent of $864.34.

All of the accused newspapers have stated that the accusations of the Grand Jury report are false and before many days interesting court proceedings will probably result.

Of the charge the Redlands Facts says:

"It had been expected that the people who are managing the campaign for the election of Jesse Olney to the Superior Court Bench would try to get out something sensational at the last minute possible for wide distribution before the primary election of next Tuesday, and being acquainted with the character of said management in San Bernardino, this paper expected something maliciously false and contemptible. We have not been disappointed."

"Ever since this paper had the intestinal stamina to speak its convictions as to the kind of a Superior Judge Jesse Olney is, and to say we believed he should not be elected, there has been an order in the hands of the campaign management of the Judge. It reads:

Get The Facts

The report of a part of the grand jury of the county, convened in special session yesterday for that purpose, is the attempt to "get" this paper as a punishment for having nerve enough to speak our sentiments.

The answer of The Facts to the report, signed by only a part of the grand jury, mark you, is that it is false—false as Hell—as far as this paper is concerned.

And we herewith repeat and emphasize whatever we said in regard to the qualifications of Judge Olney for the position he holds in this county, with only one reservation. We voiced our belief in the former article as to his honesty of purpose. We retract that. We believe, in view of his present activities that he spoke his true mind thirteen months ago when he said:

"There are but two groups of persons at this moment who are opposed to any modification of the Volstead Act. They are the bootleggers who are reaping huge fortunes at the expense of the public health and morals, and the fanatics who are so blind in the pitch darkness of their own ego that they imagine that prohibition has set up an anti-booze Utopia."

Tactics Are Contemptible In the Extreme

This partial report of a part of the grand jury was made without suggesting to the management of this paper, or of the others concerned, for the attack is widened to include the San Bernardino Sun and the Ontario Report, that a statement from the persons attacked would be in order.

What kind of a jury is it that renders a verdict without hearing both sides?

In brief, the report alleges that The Facts, which published the County Delinquent Tax List in 1920, overcharged the county therefor by $864.34.

The allegation is false, and any fair-minded person could have satisfied himself of its falsity. And The Facts proposes to establish the falsity of it and to force the people who have made it to answer in every way possible, criminally or civilly, or both, for having made such an allegation against a reputable paper and its reputable management.

The grand jury doubtless depended upon the statements of its expert, L. A. Desmond, in this matter, but that Mr. Desmond was wrong, whether intentionally or not we have no means of knowing, does not lessen the turpitude of the men who made the report.

Following is the grand jury report in full:

San Bernardino, Tuesday, Aug. 19, 1924. To the Honorable, the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of San Bernardino:

Having concluded certain phases of our official duties and terminated various investigations, we, the 1924 county grand jury, hereby submit the following partial and preliminary report.

WHAT SENDING HOWELL TO THE ASSEMBLY
MEANS TO THE FIFTY-SEVENTH DISTRICT

ELMER L. HOWELL of Chino, who is making a strong campaign for the republican nomination for assemblyman from the fifty-seventh district, makes the statement that he is confident the people of this county who assisted so wonderfully in the election of Governor Richardson and who are supporters of President Coolidge and his predecessor in office are going to give him their votes at the primary election next week. Mr. Howell rather prides himself upon being a close student of political movements and he is not basing his belief that the people are going to support him upon any egotistical idea of his own personality, but rather upon the fact that he is standing squarely upon a platform of economy in the expenditure of all tax money, no matter whether it comes directly out of the pocket of the individual citizen or is paid by him to some corporation and then by them into the public treasury.

Mr. Howell has the following to say to the voters of the fifty-seventh district:

"My candidacy is now before you and the end of the primary campaign is near. I am confident that I will be the republican candidate, and that usually means election in November; but I do not wish to make the mistake of allowing any of the voters of this district to go to the primary without having a thorough understanding of just what a Howell vote means. It will mean support of a man who has been with Governor Richardson from the first announcement of his candidacy for the nomination for the high position he now holds. It will also mean support of a man who was a backer of President Harding and also has been a Coolidge man from the night of last year when our president took the oath of office. Ordinarily a candidate can assure the people that his position has been what they would wish, and sometimes they get away with a mis-statement because there is no way to check up on them. It happens that I have been conducting a newspaper business and the files of the Chino Champion are full of editorials and articles which clearly indicate my position as a republican, without prefix or suffix, and my desire to be helpful in lifting the tax burdens of our people. It is easy to check up on the statements I have made regarding my stand on matters in which every voter is vitally interested. The files of the Champion are open for inspection.

"A vote for me will mean that you wish to send to Sacramento a man who is thoroughly convinced there should be some economy practiced if the people of this state and nation are to regain the prosperity which was destroyed by the world war. I have come to the conclusion that we have arrived at the point where we cannot allow another dollar of public money to be spent unnecessarily, and I believe that a very large per cent of the common people share that belief. We will either send men of that idea to make our laws and to guard the money we are forced to pay in taxes or we will see many more people go into bankruptcy.

"These are not nice things to mention, but I know what I am talking about when I tell you that there are many industrious people who have been unable to pay their taxes for two years past and that they must have relief. And do not forget that it is you, and you only, that pays the taxes of your state. Do the Edison Company, the gas company, the railroads, have any mysterious fund to which you have not contributed from which they generously pay all the expenses of this state? The argument that the people do not foot the state tax bill is pure 'bunk.'

"My election means sending a man to Sacramento to support the governor who has been put on the job because the people believed he would give them an honest, business-like administration which would save them many dollars. This he has been able to do, in spite of the fact that he was terribly handicapped by a lack of co-operation on the part of legislators who did not wish to see his administration succeed. This year it is imperative that the assemblymen elected shall be in accord so that the work of the past two years shall not have been in vain.

"Naturally I have a personal interest in the candidacy of some of the men who are running for other positions at this primary election, and I shall have my preference as a voter, but I have purposely avoided any tieup with any other candidate. This was done deliberately, for I wished to come squarely before the people of the district as a candidate for the assembly who was running upon his own fitness for the position and with the definite promise of supporting all true economy measures. Please observe carefully that I do not pledge myself to vote for every measure carrying the governor's approval. I am too independent and have too much self-respect to allow any man the privilege of forming my opinions.

The importance of electing a man of the people to the assembly this year made it imperative that I should conduct my candidacy absolutely free from that of any other candidate, and if there has been any disposition on the part of any voter to associate me with any other candidate he has been making a serious mistake."

Coolidge Speaks

THE heart of the American people is sound. Their officers with rare exceptions, are faithful and high minded. For us, we propose to follow the clear, open path of justice. There will be immediate, adequate, unshrinking prosecution, criminal and civil, to punish the guilty and to protect every national interest. In this effort there will be no politics, no partisanship. It will be speedy; it will be just. I am a Republican, but I cannot on that account shield anyone because he is a Republican. I am a Republican, but I cannot on that account persecute anyone because he is a Democrat. I want no hue and cry, no mingling of innocent and guilty in unthinking condemnation, no confusion of mere questions of law with questions of fraud and corruption. It is at such a time that the quality of our citizenry is tested—unrelenting toward evil, fair minded and intent on the requirements of due process; the shield of the innocent and the safeguard of society itself. I ask the support of our people, as chief magistrate, intent on the enforcement of our laws without fear or favor, no matter who is hurt or what the consequences. — President Calvin Coolidge in Lincoln Day Speech, 1924.

FAMILIAR POEMS

HYMN TO THE FLOWERS

Day-stars! that open your eyes
With morn to twinkle
From rainbow galaxies of earth's creation,
And dew-drops on her lonely altars sprinkle
As a libation.

Ye matin worshippers! who bending lowly
Before the uprisen sun—God's lidless eye—
Throw from your chalices a sweet and holy Incense on high!

Ye bright mosaics! that with storied beauty
The door of Nature's temple
tessellate,
What numerous emblems of instructive duty
Your forms create!

Neath cloistered boughs, each floral bell that swingeth
And tolls its perfume on the passing air,
Makes sabbath in the fields, and ever ringeth
A call to prayer.

Not to the domes where crumbling
arch and column
Attest the feebleness of mortal
hand,
But to that fane, most catholic and solemn,
Which God hath planned;

To that cathedral, boundless as our wonder,
Whose quenchless lamps the sun and moon supply—
Its choir, the winds and waves;
its organ, thunder,
its dome the sky.

There—as in solitude and shade
I wander
Through the green aisles, or,
stretched upon the sod,
Awed by the silence, reverently ponder
The ways of God—

Your voiceless lips, O flowers, are living preachers,
Each cup a pulpit, and each leaf a book,
Supplying to my fancy, numerous teachers
From loneliest nook.

Floral apostles! that in dewy splendor
"Weep without woe, and blush without a crime,"
O may I deeply learn, and ne'er
sunder,
Your lore sublime!

"Thou wert not, Solomon! in all thy glory,
Arrayed," the lilies cry, "in robes like ours;
How vain your grandeur! Ah,
how transitory
Are human flowers!"

In the sweet-scented pictures,
Heavenly Artist!
With which thou paintest Nature's wide-spread hall,
What a delightful lesson thou impartest
Of love to all.

Not useless are ye, flowers!
though made for pleasure;
Blooming o'er field and wave,
by day and night,
From every source your sanction
bids me treasure
Harmless delight.

Ephemeral sages! what instructors hoary
For such a world of thought could furnish scope?
Each fading calyx a memento
mori,
Yet fount of hope.

Posthumous glories! angel-like collection!
Uplifted from seed or bulb interred in earth,
Ye are to me a type of resurrec-

And second birth.

Were I, O God, in churchless lands remaining,
Far from all voices of teachers
or divines,
My soul would find in flowers of thy ordaining,
Priests, sermons, shrines!

POWER OF THE WORLD

(From Night Thoughts)

Nor reason, nor affection, no, nor both Combined, can break the witch-crafts of the world.
Behold, the inexorable hour at hand!
Behold, the inexorable hour forgot.
And to forget it the chief aim of life;
Though well to ponder it, is life's chief end.

The East Side of Second Avenue

A lot of folks said it couldn't be done—but the East Side of the Two Hundred Block is to-day and ideal place in which to shop.

Introducing

Is Now a Block of Business Houses

If you haven't visited the business houses on the East Side of the Two Hundred Block, you have missed an interesting shopping trip.

With the completion of the Blohm and Perschbacher Building at 260 Second Avenue an important point of the building section in the Two Hundred Block on the East Side of Second Avenue has been reached.

For more than thirty years the East Side of the Two Hundred Block has been punctuated with vacant lots, but with the completion of both the Jessup Grocery Building and the Blohm & Perschbacher Building the frontage on the East Side of the business section presents a most attractive appearance.

A Failure

No, folks predictions do not have to come true.

Many said that I had located on the wrong side of the street and that they could see my finish.

Well, the East Side has proven good and I have a good healthy Meat business. It's not much of a task for housewives to make their meat selections here. Our ice box and counters always hold plentiful suggestions.

MR. AND MRS. HARKER
HONORED GUESTS—

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Al. Harker, Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Moore entertained Tuesday evening at their home, 525 Euclid Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harker, former residents of Upland, arrived last week by motor car from St. Joseph, Missouri, accompanied by Miss Whitney, and plan on locating in Southern California.

The evening was spent recalling early days when Upland was much smaller and many a happy time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moore were Mr. and Mrs. Harker, Miss Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Patis, Miss Edith Patis, Carl Patis, Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Hamer and daughter, Miss Ethel Hamer, of Pomona.

CHURCH WEDDING UNITES PROMINENT WEST ENDERS—

The handsome new edifice of St. George's Catholic Church, Ontario, furnished a beautiful setting for the wedding Wednesday morning of Miss Violet Dorothea Drew and Hubert Firmin Lucas, which was solemnized at 9 o'clock in the presence of several hundred admiring friends and relatives. The Rev. James Morris, rector of St. George's, was the officiant, and was assisted by the Rev. James Matthews.

Decorative effects reflected the greatest skill known to the decorator's art and quantities of the choicest summer blossoms and potted plants were artistically employed in the achievement of the lovely setting, while the rays of tall candles, gleaming from the high altar added a touch of solemn dignity to the scene.

The nuptial mass was sung by Miss Marie Peralta, soprano, of Los Angeles, and her solo numbers, with violin obligato, included "I Love You Truly" and a Spanish Ave Maria. Prof. Maestro Aguilar of Los Angeles presided at the pipe organ for the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," which heralded the approach of the bride party.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Eldred Drew, who gave her away. She was gowned in a modish creation of white champagne, made en train, and her conventional veil was caught coronet fashion with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bou-quet of bride's roses, lilies-of-the-valley and maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Robert Barr Campbell, Jr., served as matron of honor; Miss Anna Fallis was maid of honor; while Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Marion Haswell and Miss Elizabeth Surr acted as bridesmaids. These attendants were attired in dainty frocks reflecting the pastel shades, with picture hats to harmonize, and the result was a charming rainbow effect. The little Misses Betty Ann and Agnes Lucas served as flower girls.

Leo Lucas served his brother as best man, and the ushers numbered Charles Drew, Sanford Ballou, Robert B. Campbell, Jr., and Albert Salter.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast of elaborate appointments at the home of the bride's mother, 417 West A Street, for members of the bridal party and the two families. This was followed at 1:30 p.m. by a reception at the home, at which hundreds of friends availed themselves of the opportunity to offer congratulations and view the many beautiful wedding gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucas departed on a motor honeymoon which will take them as far north as British Columbia. On their return, they are to make their home in Ontario.

The bride, an attractive young woman of the blonde type, is the only daughter of Mr. Frederick Albert Charles Drew. Her family has long been prominent in Ontario, being among the pioneers of the West End. She is a graduate of Chaffey High School and later attended Ramona Convent. She is vastly popular in a large circle of friends.

The bridegroom, also a Chaffey graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Firmin A. Lucas, prominent West End pioneers, and is associated with his father and uncles in the Lucas Ranching Company, which owns hundreds of acres of vineyard and deciduous property in the Cucamonga district. He shares the popularity of his bride.

RETURNS TO MISSION WORK AFTER FURLOUGH—

Miss Elizabeth Hershey, who has just completed her nineteenth year of service in the China Inland Mission Work, left recently to resume her duties in the Orient after having spent the past two years in Upland on furlough.

While on her leave of absence, Miss Hershey made her headquarters here with her sister, Miss Fannie Hershey, 1107 East Ninth Street, who accompanied the missionary to San Pedro to bid her bon voyage.

UNUSUAL RE-UNION AT WOODBRIDGE HOME—

The attractive ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Tyler R. Woodbridge in West Twentieth Street, was the scene of an unusual and very enjoyable gathering the fore part of the week, when some twelve Woodbridges and their "in-laws" assembled for a family reunion, which marked the first time the five Woodbridge children have been together in 32 years, with the exception of a similar gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woodbridge in Los Angeles a few days previously.

Present at the Upland gathering were Mrs. E. A. Lewald and daughter, Miss Elam Lewald of Galveston, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Woodbridge and son, William W. Woodbridge of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Woodbridge of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Garrettson (Mary Woodbridge) of San Pedro; Miss Mary W. Woodbridge of Port Henry, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Tyler R. Woodbridge.

This was the first time that two of the Woodbridge children had seen each other in 24 years. Members of the party regretted that five more "in-laws" in Galveston, Texas, were unable to be in Upland at this time.

COUNTRY CLUB TEA DELIGHTFUL—

Red Hill Country Club was the scene of a delightful affair Wednesday afternoon, when members of the Women's Greens Committee entertained with the first of a series of informal bridge teas.

Eleven tables were used in the auction tournament, and prizes were awarded to the holders of high score at each table at the close of the afternoon's play. Graceful baskets of fernery and bright-colored zinnias were used with artistic effect in the decoration of the attractive club rooms, while golden glow and fernery were used in the adornment of the tea tables at which a collation was served following the play. Nearly fifty women enjoyed the event.

On the Women's Greens Committee, which plans to sponsor a similar event on the third Wednesday of each month throughout the season, and responsible for the success of Wednesday's affair, are Mrs. Paul Wright Nichols, Mrs. Leigh Thompson, Mrs. William Howard Craig, Jr., and Mrs. LeRoy A. Weller.

HONORS SISTER AT SMART BRIDGE LUNCHEON—

The Sycamores at Red Hill was the scene of a delightful affair yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Alois Podrasnik entertained with a bridge luncheon of smart appointments in honor of her sister, Miss Theresa Schless, on the occasion of her birthday anniversary.

A pink color motif was used with artistic effect in the decoration of the luncheon table, the handsome centerpiece being done in delicate pink cosmos and fernery.

Covers at the luncheon table were marked for Miss Schless, Mrs. Warren Wass, Mrs. Harlow Scott Wilson, Mrs. Robert R. Harrington, Mrs. Frank McKenna, Mrs. Tyler R. Woodbridge, Mrs. Florence Marshall, Mrs. John Herbert Tracy, Mrs. Robert T. Nelson, Mrs. Arthur R. Hungerford, Mrs. Frank Van Natta, Mrs. Jerome Hill Titus, Mrs. Amy M. Hutton and Mrs. Alois Podrasnik.

Following the delectable menu, which was served in courses, three tables were arranged for auction in the lobby, where graceful baskets of vari-colored garden flowers and fernery added to the attractiveness. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Harrington.

INSTRUCTORS BACK FROM LONG MOTOR TOUR—

Miss Florence Tarleton and Miss Grace Sullivan, popular members of the faculties of the Upland city schools, have just returned from a delightful motor camping trip, covering a distance of 4,800 miles, which they took this summer in company with Miss Shirley Shepard of Watsonville.

On their trip, which covered a period of eight weeks, the young women visited the northern portion of California, Oregon, Washington and Western Canada.

Among the points of interest visited were Crater Lake, Oregon; the Columbia River Highway, Spokane and Seattle, Wash.; Mt. Ranier, where they camped for two weeks; Victoria and Vancouver, B.C.; the Oregon Caves and the Redwood Highway on the return.

Miss Tarleton and Miss Sullivan took turns in the driving during the trip.

FAMILY DINNER PARTY IS PLEASANT AFFAIR—

Miss Betty Reynolds was hostess last evening at a pleasant family dinner party at her home, 306 First Avenue.

A graceful basket of choice dahlias, culled from Miss Reynolds' own garden, made an artistic centerpiece. Dinner was announced at 7 o'clock and was served in courses.

Covers were indicated for Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Morrison and son, Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Reynolds and son, David, and W. C. Reynolds, all of Upland; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Reynolds and daughter, Jeannette, of Monrovia; Miss Elizabeth Uhler of Burlington Iowa, and Miss Betty Reynolds.

FAREWELL SURPRISE IS PLEASANT AFFAIR—

As a pretty farewell compliment to Wilbur F. Goodban, who left Wednesday for a visit of some weeks in the middle west and east, a merry group of his friends among the members of the First Methodist Church, which he has served efficiently as treasurer for the past twenty years, planned and successfully carried out a surprise party at Crowell Memorial Hall Tuesday evening.

Mr. Goodban, who recently resigned the church treasuryship in anticipation of his trip, was asked to attend a committee meeting, but on his arrival at Crowell Hall he was greeted by an unusually large "committee."

A delightful program of music and readings added to the enjoyment of the occasion and included a violin solo by Boyd Matthews, who was accompanied on the piano by John Mehl; a vocal duet by Mrs. Charles Dinger and Mrs. F. B. Harn, who were accompanied by Mrs. S. P. Holliday; vocal duet by Mrs. Charles Dinger and C. H. Chilson; readings by Mrs. E. A. Watson and Mrs. T. J. Cromer; closing with a poem by Mrs. J. J. Atwood. Six of Mr. Goodban's children were present for the farewell event. Refreshments were served toward the evening's close.

FEEDS HOBO AND GETS GOLD MINE

It may not have been a case of casting "bread upon the waters," but certainly the "bread" handed out last winter by F. H. Beasley, proprietor of the Ford Lunch, 108 East A street, Ontario, to an aged hobo is coming back to him four-fold, according to the restaurateur's own admission today.

In gratitude for the kindness shown him by Beasley, the aged hobo, a former miner told the Ontario man of the location of a reputedly rich and deserted mining claim on the desert near Randburg.

Beasley decided to investigate and today is exhibiting a real, solid gold brick which came from the mine on which he filed claim following the tip of the man he befriended.

Who's Who

By MRS. GEO. WINTER
Of the Business and Professional
Woman's Club of Upland

(Editor's Note—During the next several weeks space will be given to the work and experiences of members of different organizations of the City. Mrs. Winter, member of the Upland Business and Professional Woman's Club, will give each issue a brief sketch of some one member of her association. Following this, another club will be asked to present the histories or brief reviews of the work of its members. The most interesting subject known is "people," and by presenting the histories, craft talks or other themes of interest regarding your neighbors, The News believes readers will find something interesting.)

The Editor of The News has very kindly given space in the columns of his paper for brief write-ups of the members of the Business and Professional Woman's Club and their relation to the business activities of our town and we, as an organization, are deeply appreciative of this opportunity. We feel a pardonable pride in the good work our various members are doing and the usefulness of their efforts in helping the business men of the community build up a bigger and better Upland.

As Mrs. R. N. Leahy is away on her vacation—and can't stop us—we devote our paragraph today to her work as a member of The Upland News staff.

Mrs. Leahy began her newspaper work by sending in items to the old weekly Upland News from her neighborhood during the time she resided on the ranch at Sixteenth Street. With the starting of the twice-a-week paper the latter part of 1918 she was called into the office and became a steady employee.

More and more responsibility was placed upon her as she became proficient, until now she edits both the local and society pages, and often helps get up other features of the newspaper.

She also has charge of the office details (which is somewhat of a job in itself) and those of us who drop into the office find her most courteous and friendly and ever ready to look after our wants. A thorough training in English and English literature in her youth has been a great help in her present work; she has also been a great reader all her life, and has devoted some time to reading along the line of her present occupation. All in all, she has become a very worthy member of the newspaper profession.

GLARING LIGHTS CAUSE ARREST

Twenty-five motorists, whose headlights were declared improperly adjusted, were cited to appear before Judge Geo. R. Crane in the Upland police court during the past two days.

Officers working on the headlights in this vicinity include L. E. Kronmeyer, Jr., Frank J. Freeman and George Carpenter. All light offenders are now given regular arrest slips and if they fail to appear in court within 24 hours with proof that their headlights have been properly adjusted, will be severely dealt with.

The officers expect to work on headlights in the Ontario section the coming week.

DROP CHARGE OF MOONSHINING

James K. Matheson, who was arrested some weeks ago when a whiskey still operated by A. Carnelli, an Italian, on the Matheson ranch at Seventh street and Cucamonga avenue was seized by local officers, was exonerated yesterday in the court of Justice of the Peace Thomas Donnelly in Etiwanda township. The case against the rancher was dismissed.

Matheson explained that he had leased the ranch to Carnelli and declared that as the Italian had violated the terms of the lease by making liquor on the premises, he would compel him to vacate.

Carnelli was found guilty of illegal liquor operations and drew a fine of $500, which he paid.

GOVERNOR HOPES FOR E. L. HOWELL'S SUCCESS AUG. 26

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
Governor's Office, Sacramento
Friend Wm. Richardson,
Governor

August 18, 1924.

Elmer L. Howell,
Editor Champion,
Chino, California.

Dear Friend,—I have your kind letter of the 8th inst. and am glad to know that your fight is progressing so well. I hope you will keep on the job and that you will be successful at the primaries.

The issue in your district is a clear cut one on economy in state affairs. Your positive declaration in favor of economy should win you that district, as it stood with me in the past and in favor of economy.

With kindest regards, I am,
Yours sincerely,
F. W. RICHARDSON.

The foregoing letter shows that Governor Friend W. Richardson is watching with keen interest the candidacy of Mr. Howell for the Republican nomination for assemblyman from the Fifty-seventh district.

Mr. Richardson knows full well what forces are against the extravagance of expenditures must cease, for he has been through an economy campaign and a succeeding bitter fight at Sacramento in which he would have been defeated and disgraced many times if his program had not been right and he had not been sincerely and honestly trying to carry out the great task undertaken.

Mr. Howell feels confident that the people of the district now understand the issues at stake in this contest—that they know his election means sending a man to Sacramento who is fully determined to assist in the gigantic effort to save money and who will vote for economy measures which do not go to extremes and injure our state institutions and activities.

The recent report from the board of control and Controller Ray L. Riley is abundant proof of the real results obtained under the Richardson budget. Every department came through without being curtailed in essentials and with a surplus over the budget estimate. To fully appreciate this, one must remember the storm of protest which was raised when the proposed budgets of these various departments were trimmed down by the governor's budget.

In these closing days of the primary campaign Mr. Howell states he is perfectly willing to leave his candidacy in the hands of the rank and file of voters of the district. They have had abundant proof in the last year or two that economy in public expenditures is absolutely essential and he believes they will go to the polls next Tuesday and cast their vote for the man who is running on the economy issue and for the purpose of going to Sacramento to assist in saving at least a portion of the great sum which is being expended.

WANTS TO RECOVER THIRD INTEREST

Accusing W. H. Swan and R. C. Finley of fraud, Dr. J. B. Sloan, a retired Los Angeles physician, yesterday filed suit in the superior court to recover a one-third interest in magnetic claims on the desert, worth $50,000.

In the litigation, Dr. Sloan alleges that Swan and Finley failed to do the assessment work on the claims, although he forwarded funds to pay for his share of the work. Through the asserted willful neglect, the title of the property became invalid and the claims were relocated by Arthur Kunze, representing Swan and Finley, the physician further charges.

Charges Property Up For Sale
After Kunze, an alleged employee of Swan and Finley, filed on the claims, the two former owners entered into a transaction to sell the property for $50,000. Dr. Sloan alleges, to a mysterious man, identified in the complaint as "John Doe." In the litigation, Dr. Sloan asks that a court decree be issued restoring his undivided one-third interest in the property and, if the property has been sold, he asks an accounting and one-third of the proceeds of the sale.

The property described in the litigation is 35 miles northeast of Yermo near the Union Pacific railway. It is regarded by mining experts as among the most valuable

"The Covered Wagon" At California Theatre

One of the greatest photoplays ever made, will be the popular verdict when the motion picture public sees James Cruze's colossal Paramount production, "The Covered Wagon," which will be the feature at the California Theatre, Pomona, August 22-26, inclusive. That is the prediction made not only by Mr. Cruze himself, but by those who have seen the picture and who hail it for its bigness, impressiveness and extraordinary realism.

Perfect realism, a strong love theme, tremendous dramatic action, thrills that are utterly unlike the ordinary sort; a background of real newness to the screen, where the camera has never before been ground; all these facts, coupled with the splendid cast of virtually 3,000 men and women, certainly indicate a picture that is worthy of any director's enthusiasm. And James Cruze is enthusiastic. He has believed in the picture from the start and with each day of shooting, sometimes under conditions almost unbearably difficult, his enthusiasm has grown. Nor is he alone in his belief, for every person in the drama of the old-time western days shares his convictions.

J. Warren Kerrigan is the man; Lois Wilson, the girl, and Alan Hale, the scheming villain. This trio does the major part of the acting, and to them along with the director, goes the credit for this superb production. Others in the cast are Charles Ogles, Ernest Torrence, Tully Marshall, Guy Oliver and John Fox.

PRIMARY ELECTION

AUGUST 26, 1924

Mr. Howell's support of President Coolidge and Governor Richardson dates back to preceding the primaries at which they were nominated. He is running on an economy platform—pledging support to measures promising curtailment of extravagance.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. V. Barr are enjoying their annual summer outing at the Coronado Hotel, Coronado.

E. R. Bowman, of the Creighton Auto Supply Company, was a Los Angeles visitor yesterday, making the trip on business for the concern with which he is connected.

Roy Creighton, who sold his dwelling at 560 Second Avenue to Carl M. Eberts, last week, has moved to the Kintzi residence on Sixth Avenue, north of the Pacific Electric, which he and his family will occupy for the present.

Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Haury, who have made their home for some time past at 994 East Ninth Street, Ontario, where they will make their home in the future.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Farmer, Mrs. Z. J. Farmer and Miss Lela Farmer were Los Angeles visitors Wednesday, taking in the Pilgrimage Play at Hollywood in the evening.

The Rev. John Dawson of Portland, Ore., with Mrs. Dawson, were guests the fore part of the week of Dr. and Mrs. Bert Foster at St. Mark's rectory. Dr. Foster presented Mr. Dawson for ordination over thirty years ago and had him for an assistant in his mission work in Idaho. The two had not met for over twenty years. Dr. Foster accompanied the visitors to Long Beach for the day before they started back for their northern home.

W. F. Goodban of West Tenth Street left Wednesday over the Santa Fe for a visit at points in Kansas, Iowa, Ohio and Pennsylvania, expecting to be gone for several weeks. Mr. Goodban's old home in Fairfield, Ia., where he lived for fifteen years prior to his coming to Upland, will be his principal objective. He has not visited Iowa for 24 years, and it has been forty years since he was at his earlier home in Pennsylvania.

Miss Lillian Williams was hostess yesterday to a group of women friends on a delightful motor trip to the coast. In the party were Mrs. Sarah Nelson and Mrs. C. Thudum, both of Upland, and Mrs. Dash of Ontario. They visited Redondo Beach, Long Beach and San Pedro. A picnic lunch in the park at Long Beach, where they were joined by Miss Myrna Hamilton, who is in business at the coast city, was included in the day's outing.

Mrs. A. J. Halliwell of Oakland is a guest here this week of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kennedy, Miss Bertha Weston and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Westland. Mrs. Halliwell has not been in Upland in seven years and finds many surprising improvements in the city.

Miss Barr's School will open on Sept. 15 in St. Mark's Parish House on F Street. For information phone 305-W-5.

A. H. Maxwell, formerly in Y. M. C. A. work here, but now similarly engaged in Los Angeles, was a visitor this week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Maxwell, 976 East Ninth Street, stopping off here on his return from a "y" outing at one of the mountain resorts.

Miss Dora Hermes, trimmer at the Hat Shop, 237 Second Avenue, is back on duty today after a pleasant vacation of two weeks.

Miss Lillian Williams and Mrs. C. H. Jenison motored in the former's car today to Garvanza, where they expected to visit Dr. and Mrs. L. V. Harvey and family, former Upland residents.

Miss Blanche Gorton, who has been spending the major portion of the summer in Idaho, has returned to the home of her aunt, Miss Fannie Hershey, 1107 East Ninth Street.

Open House at Public Library August 28th, one to ten o'clock.

J. F. Horsley of Los Angeles, formerly of San Antonio Heights, is spending a short time here on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Barr have a home all their own, Mr. Barr having this week purchased the Mrs. Frank White home at 695 Euclid Avenue. Mrs. White is building a home in Chino near that of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Kincaid.

John White and wife, who have been here during the past ten months, have returned to their former home in Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Morrison, Master Kenneth, and their guest, Miss Elizabeth Uhler, spent Wednesday with friends at Long Beach.

P. H. McQuillen (Mac, the Medicine Man) and Mrs. McQuillen expect to leave tomorrow on their vacation, which will include a motor trip which will take them to the Mono Lake country.

George Beard, recent Chaffey graduate and son of Mrs. Leslie Strawn of Cucamonga Avenue, left last night for Fort Collins, Colo., where he expects to enter the Agricultural College to take up the study of veterinary science.

Mrs. C. Thudum and Miss Lillian Williams were visitors in Los Angeles Tuesday, making the trip on business for the Hat Shop, 237 Second Avenue.

Walter Gardner Blossom will give his popular lecture, "The Romance of Electricity," illustrated with two reels of motion pictures, at Camp Baldy Saturday evening. The lecture begins at 7, there being no admission charge.

David Widmark, caretaker at the Kerchoff property in San Antonio Canyon above Hogsback, fractured his hip Wednesday when he fell while repairing a fence along the canyon road. He was assisted to his home and an X-Ray taken to determine the extent of his injuries. Dr. Brown is acting as nurse and will remain at the Widmark home until his patient recovers.

New line of Linen, Towels and Tea Towels. You will have to see them to appreciate their value.—Upland Art Shoppe, 263 East Ninth Street.

Miss Lela Blair, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, leaves Saturday for a week's vacation, which she expects to enjoy at Long Beach. The office of the Chamber of Commerce on Ninth Street will be closed during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs and family left on Wednesday for Big Bear, where they will spend the next week or ten days in building a cottage.

Miss Ruth Crane left this evening for the Opsaw Club cabin in San Antonio Canyon, where she will be the guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jay Hall and family.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Anderson and Mrs. M. Evans and daughter, Doris, returned today from Venice, where they have enjoyed a very pleasant week's vacation.

R. B. Bordner, formerly connected with the Kirkwood barber shop here, but now making his home in Modesto, where he is practicing law, was an Upland visitor yesterday and expressed surprise at the growth and progress of the city during the past two years.

Mrs. I. J. Linkey, 505 Eighth Avenue, yesterday underwent a major operation at the San Antonio Community Hospital, and is reported making satisfactory progress.

Mrs. Amos Colborn is expected to return tomorrow from Long Beach, where she has been enjoying a pleasant vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cromer have returned from a delightful motor trip to Oakland and other points of interest north, having been absent about a week.

Mrs. F. E. Draper and children are visiting with Mrs. W. W. Hodgkins at Inglewood. Mr. Draper will join them for a visit over Sunday.

Mrs. Alice Erickson returned home Wednesday evening from a most delightful visit with Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lathrop of Los Angeles. While their guests, they called on Mrs. R. L. Moore in Long Beach and all enjoyed a trip to Point Fermin.

MARS NEAR EARTH
WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Moving through the heavens in what scientists term "opposition" to the earth, Mars was closer Wednesday night than it will be, or has been, in half a century. Near midnight, the mystery planet had narrowed down the usual 42,000,000 mile away orbit on which it travels to a mere 35,000,000 miles.

Astronomers Peer Through Glasses

And in an attempt to determine, if observation will help the mooted theory, learned astronomers in observatories on mountain tops in California were peering through gigantic telescopes—looking for developments that would divulge the momentous secret of whether Mars is inhabited. Because of clearer atmospheric conditions prevailing in California, the astronomers—some famous throughout the world and most of whom believe that Mars may be inhabited—started the most intimate studies they have ever been able to make of that celestial body under modern auspices.

Although Mars was closer Wednesday night than in 50 years, the astronomers will continue their observations for nearly ten days—or nights—that being the estimated time which the planet will require to return to its more distant 42,000,000 mile pathway.

Observations being made from the Pacific Coast points are through the most powerful telescopes yet invented by man, among them the famous 100-inch reflecting mirror telescope at Carnegie Solar Observatory, Mount Wilson, near Pasadena.

The principal studies, however, will be made from Lowell observatory, Arizona, where Dr. Percival Lowell, famous astronomer, recently completed his epochal photographic studies of Mars, and from Lick Observatory. Other observations also are being made from the Lick Observatory on Mount Lowe, Southern California, the Santa Clara Observatory and from the United States Naval Observatory at Mare Island.

Laymen Little Aided by Visit

The consensus of opinion among the astronomers is that Wednesday night's opportunity to study the red planet at the closest range possible in more than half a century will not be productive of anything particularly startling from the layman's viewpoint. From the scientific standpoint, however, the observations are expected to have an important bearing for the star-gazing savants hope to verify in a measure, their belief that Mars has atmospheric condition like Mother Earth, that she has a North and South Pole, and that there apparently are different zones of temperature just like those that gird this world.

Such successful observations as may be made, however, are expected to be largely cumulative in their effect and merely to strengthen the theory already in existence that the planet has atmospheric conditions somewhat similar to this world and therefore must be inhabited by some form of animal life.

Ethereal Haze Hinders Studies. Astronomers have been unable to make observations for the past two nights because of the ethereal haze, which has intruded itself between the Earth and Mars, are united in the opinion that no telescope yet has been invented that will permit them to determine whether forms of vegetation exist on the distant planet or whether it has any forms of life.

Apocryphal this belief, Dr. R. A. Tucker, director of Lick Observatory and internationally known as an astronomical savant, says:

"While most scientific men who have been studying Mars believe it possibly is inhabited by some form of animal or human life—conditions there appearing making such forms of life possible—we probably never will be able to determine such a fact definitely. Conditions for studying Mars are just a little bit more favorable right now than ordinarily. We expect to be able to see and photograph certain markings which will strengthen our present theories but which will not determine whether vegetation or life of any kind exist there."

One precedent creates another. They soon accumulate and become law.

UPLAND WOMEN ARE NOTIFIED OF DEATH OF FATHER IN KAN.

Mrs. H. C. Naylor, 513 Eighth Avenue, Mrs. Harvey Wengert, 356 F Street, received word today of the death yesterday in Abilene, Kansas, of their father, D. S. Wagaman.

Mr. Wagaman had been a visitor in Upland and was well-known here, particularly among the members of the Brethren in Christ Church.

Funeral services for Mr. Wagaman are to be held in the Kansas city tomorrow morning.

MENNONITE NOTES

If you want to hear the Intermediate Orchestra Sunday morning, come to Sunday School on time. You know it begins at 9:30 sharp. You will also find a Sunday School class to suit your needs.

The pastor's theme for his sermon is, "An Autobiography of Paul in Three Sentences." These sentences you will find in I. Cor. 15:9, Eph. 3:8, and I. Tim. 1:15.

Our delegates to the Mennonite Sunday School and C. E. Convention at Paso Robles returned this week. We will listen to their reports Sunday night, so instead of our regular meetings and services, there will be an echo meeting of the convention.

Come and share with us the blessings of these meetings. Though the church is well filled usually, there is always room for you.

BRETHREN CHURCH
EXPECT VISITORS

Members of the Brethren in Christ Church are looking forward to an unusual event Sunday, when they will be joined for their evening services by some 63 men and women, members of the Ridge-way Special Educational Tour, from Lancaster, Pa.

The party is being personally conducted by O. H. Shenk, who, together with several of its members, is a personal friend of Bishop C. C. Burkholder.

This is the first of the Ridge-way tours to California. Starting from the Pennsylvania city, the party went first to Niagara Falls; thence to Chicago, Yellowstone National Park, Portland, Ore., Vancouver, Wash., over the Columbia Highway on sight-seeing buses, thence south to San Francisco, to Sacramento, to Yosemite Valley, south to Santa Barbara and then to Los Angeles. At present the party is enjoying a side trip to Catalina Island.

From Upland, they will visit San Diego; over into Mexico and will return home by way of the Grand Canyon, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Colo., and Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. G. W. Eckerman left this week to visit with her sisters, Mrs. Hunt of Davidson City, California, and Mrs. King, who lives at Alameda Bay.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING

Isaac Jones, Candidate

Editorial from The Redlands "The Daily Facts" of Date August 11, 1924

"Isaac Jones of Ontario is a candidate for re-election to the Assembly, one of the houses of the California Legislature. Mr. Jones is the present incumbent of the office and is an experienced legislator. In accordance with the plan of operations adopted, a conference of the people politically strenuously endorsing Governor Richardson's administration, decided to put an opponent into the field against Mr. Jones, and chose therefore Mr. Howell, who is editor of the Chino Champion.

"This paper knows nothing but good things about Mr. Howell, but we know so many more of the same kind about Mr. Jones, it would seem as though a protest should be made, even at this distance, at the adoption of a political policy which would punish a man for being an independent thinker in the Legislature. That is what Mr. Jones is. He is unquestionably a man of the highest type—honest, keen of mind, well educated, experienced in the ways of legislation, fearless of the Governor, yet at the same time standing with any policy of the Governor's which he knows to be right. In short, Mr. Jones asks nothing of whom a proposed policy springs—all he wants to know is if it is wise and right.

"So the question resolves itself down to this: Will the people cast out a man of this kind who has accepted public service at much cost to himself, merely that the whim of a political faction may be gratified? If that is to be the fate of fine men who occasionally get into public life, this government will continue to retrograde. We prate about wanting good men in office, yet the unthinking (who we must admit are many) on some specious plea like that of 'endorsing the Governor's economy plan' vote out a man who has not only stood for every measure of righteous economy, but who is so fine of principle in every way that most of those who attack him cannot rise to a place where they even sense it.

"It will be a distinct blow to good government if Mr. Jones shall be defeated."

WORK RUSHED ON STEAM-ELECTRIC GENERATORS

"All records for steam plant construction are being broken this summer by the crew which is building the new Edison plant at Long Beach," said C. E. Houston on his return from a meeting of Edison district managers held in Los Angeles on Monday.

"As soon as our large new water plant No. 3, of 100,000 horsepower capacity in normal years, was finished last August, consideration was given to increasing our steam reserve. In October plans were started for an additional steam-electric plant at Long Beach, adjacent to the original 70,000 horsepower plant at that location.

"When the water shortage became apparent these plans were changed, not only to speed up the installation of the 100,000 horsepower new steam plant No. 2 at a cost of ten million dollars, but also to install three emergency units, totaling 30,000 horsepower, in the original plant, now known as No. 1, making a capacity of 200,000 horsepower at this site at a cost of twenty million dollars."

On February 25 a night telegram was sent east to see what emergency equipment could be sent west. The next day one engineer went to Akron, Ohio, and another to Lynn, Massachusetts, while at the same time an investigation was made of a machine in Havana, Cuba. The engineers found three machines finished and in shape for immediate shipment—a 15,500 horsepower generator at Akron and two 8,000 horsepower generators at Lynn. Complete measurements of these machines were sent by long distance telephone. A crew of draftsmen was set to work and in one week complete plans were ready and the crew at Long Beach had started foundations.

To supply these generators eight additional boilers were necessary. The first battery of four boilers was installed and "bricked in" in 23 days, and the second battery was completed in 17 days, a record which the engineers in charge declare will stand for all time. By July third the first generator had been installed, tested out and put into operation. Eighteen days later the other two were finished, making a complete installation of 30,000 horsepower in a little over four months, establishing a new record for speed in steam plant construction. While this was going on, work was also being rushed on the 100,000 horsepower plant No. 2, consisting of two turbo-generators of 50,000 horsepower each, the largest to be installed west of Chicago.

Two thousand tons of special structural steel are required for the job. This order was placed with the Bethlehem Steel Company, February 20. Twelve days later fifty per cent of the order was ready and shipments had started to the Llewellyn Iron Works, which have charge of fabrication and erection. Nearly all of this steel is now in place and the concrete walls are being poured.

Seven thousand piles of an average length of 45 feet were driven as a sub-foundation. On these there rests a reinforced concrete "mat" 200 feet long, 75 feet wide and 7 feet thick, which in turn supports the massive concrete pillars that form the foundation for the steel structure. These piles are sufficient to build an ordinary pier twenty feet wide and two miles long.

Preliminary to actual construction work eight miles of railroad track were laid, on which are operated a standard locomotive, three locomotive cranes and a host of cars of various types. A camp was built on the site, where 500 men get their meals and 250 men are housed.

To date 1979 carloads of material have been delivered, including 216 cars of piling, 173 cars of lumber, 364 cars of gravel, 190 cars of sand, 93 cars of cement, 56 cars of structural steel, 25 cars of reinforced steel and 79 cars of boiler brick and equipment.

"In common with everyone else in California, we fondly hope for a normal rainfall this coming winter. But even if next winter should be as dry as the past winter, this splendid new steam-electric plant at Long Beach, which will be ready to operate by December first, seven months ahead of schedule, will supply plenty of power to insure the community against any shortage next year," Mr. C. E. Houston concluded.

Lions Club

Although it was "home talent" day at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Wednesday afternoon at Hotel Casa Blanca, the program, which featured three craft talks, proved one of the most interesting of the club's season.

Harvey Tadlock spoke on the contracting and building game; J. S. Winton told of the sewing machine business and service; and H. W. Kendrick talked on pharmacy.

Received into the club as new members at this meeting were Hugh Montgomery, manager of Hotel Casa Blanca, who favored the meeting with some banjo solos; and W. H. Kegley, member of the Chaffey High School faculty. They were officially welcomed by Clyde C. Bryant, chairman of the club's educational committee.

W. D. Richardson gave an interesting birthday talk on this occasion and Harry I. de Berard, president of the Ontario organization gave a brief, but thoughtful address on "Lionism, Its Outreach."

Visitors at the club included M. F. Huxtable of Upland and Roy Carrington, formerly of Ontario, but now of Los Angeles.

Defense Day Plans

The Ontario city council was officially on record this evening, following a brief special session, agreeing to co-operate actively with the suggestions of President Coolidge in his approval of plans of the Secretary of War to set aside Sept. 12 as Defense Test Day. For this purpose they appointed a citizen's committee numbering R. D. Newton, president of the Business Men's Association, chairman; E. H. Richardson, George S. Felker, Harry Nelsen and the Rev. Paul E. Wright.

It is expected that this committee will co-operate with a similar committee to be appointed by the Upland city council and the Ontario council has urged that all local organizations co-operate with this committee in the fitting observance of the day.

Members of Ontario Post, American Legion, in session last night at the Hotpoint Club, also heartily endorsed the Defense Day plans and appointed on a special committee to co-operate with the larger committee, McCall Aldrich, Clayton H. Dyke and Hans Rasmussen.

Candidates Speak

City Councilman Charles Latimer, who is also chairman of the council fire committee, was host Tuesday night to the members of the Ontario Fire Department at their monthly dinner meeting in the department club quarters at Fire Station, No. 1. In as much as election day is less than a week hence, it was decided fitting that members of the department should have the opportunity to meet some of the candidates for office and introduction of political aspirants therefore featured the evening.

Those presented at the meeting included Assemblyman Isaac Jones, candidate to succeed himself, who gave a brief talk in which he explained why he did not favor backing Governor Richardson's program in its entirety.

Charles Allison of San Bernardino, candidate for the superior court bench, spoke briefly, telling of the days when he was a "fire boy" himself. In the days when San Francisco's fire department was of the volunteer variety, Mr. Allison, too young to be a regular member, was made "torchbearer" of the department, carrying a light to aid the firemen at their work. The speaker made no plea for votes, but expressed himself as glad of the opportunity to meet many of the electors of this district face to face.

Judge Benjamin F. Warner, who is unopposed as candidate to succeed himself on the superior court bench, gave a brief, but forceful talk on President Coolidge, telling why he supported him.

Welles T. Ross, member of the Ontario Fire Department, and candidate for member of the Republican County Central Committee, also spoke briefly. The "feed" last night featured corned beef and cabbage and those attending were obliged to reach the dining room by way of a ladder up the hose tower. Signs directed them by that route to "Dinty Moore's Kitchen."

Salvationists Active

Renewed local activity on the part of the Salvation Army and the re-establishment of permanent headquarters at the old Salvation Army barracks at 318 North Euclid avenue, was assured with the arrival from Chicago of Adjutant Philip Lawton to take charge of the local work.

The hall or barracks at the Euclid avenue address was erected by the Salvationists some 30 years ago, but for many years has not been used with any degree of permanency by the organization, which, however, has retained possession of the property.

Adjutant Lawton has secured a residence at 401 North Cherry avenue. He has many plans for effecting a strong organization in Ontario and announced this afternoon that present plans call for holding regular services each evening at the Army hall and on the streets of the business section.

Here to assist Mr. Lawton in the re-establishment of the work locally is Ensign Peter Auld of Redlands. Ensign Auld has been affiliated with the Salvation Army for more than 20 years and is enthusiastic over the prospects of doing good work in Ontario.

Adjutant Lawton has also been a member of the organization for a number of years. He is a man of education, being a graduate of Ann Arbor and comes to Ontario with an excellent record for Army work in some of the larger cities of the east.

BONUS RULING TOLD VETERANS

Immediate application for adjusted compensation, or bonus insurance, should be made by World War Veterans, officials of the American Legion advise, in calling attention to the clause which provides that relatives of a veteran who dies without having filed application will receive considerably less insurance than otherwise.

Twenty-five thousand world war veterans will die during 1924, based on the records for the years since the war ended, or at the rate of about 400 each week, it is pointed out. If papers are already made out the relatives will get something like two and one-half times as much money as they would otherwise.

Although the distribution of these insurance policies will not begin until January 1, 1925, and although cash payments will not be made until March 15, 1925, it is nevertheless imperative that the veteran make his application at once, for the reason that he may be benefitted very greatly by being prompt.

It should be borne in mind, legion officials say, that the policy is in effect from the moment that the application for it has been received and approved. Therefore, if the veteran dies in the interim his relatives will get the benefit of several months, and at all times from date of approval the insurance will be in full effect.

The government has now effected the machinery through which the bonus will be approved and distributed, and it is only waiting the receipt of applications. All American Legion posts in Southern California, as well as throughout the nation, are headquarters for bonus insurance applications.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS HINDERED

cities the ordinances are very stringent with heavy penalties. But, like all laws, to be effective this ordinance must be understood, approved and supported by the people. Upland has, not one of the best, but the best volunteer fire department I have known, and when a young man I thought I belonged to a pretty good one myself. I think I know whereof I speak, as I have been for many years an honorary member of Upland's organization, and occasionally attend its business and social meetings. There are several reasons for the efficiency of Upland's fire department, such as careful selection of members, high ideals of service to the community, and duty to fellow members, finances always in excellent condition, strict requirement concerning attendance at fires and drills, rigid adherence to other rules, and special care of equipment. These conditions mean a long waiting list of would-be members, a heart break for one who has to drop out, and great loyalty of all active members. The result for Upland is very high efficiency in fire control. It should be of interest and pride to all of us to know that the constant efficiency of the expensive fire truck and of all the fire equipment is such that, ever since its purchase in 1915, the manufacturers have sent and are still sending their prospective purchasers from other cities to see what such apparatus will do under proper conditions.

Such an organization is worth a great deal to Upland, and, in case of a fire, we should all help the department in every way possible. In this case what is requested is very simple.

When you hear the fire siren, PARK YOUR MACHINE as quickly as possible, or, if in a situation where it is difficult to park, run for the country and away from the fire and away from the route of the fire truck. Then, if you want to, stand at the bank corner and watch the fire truck sail down Second Avenue before the siren has had time to be well on its way, note the skill with which the fire boys, running from their places of business, board the moving truck, hear that exhaust holler as the truck gains speed after taking on its enthusiastic load of firefighters, and then, if you still want to, walk or run to the fire, but, for the love of Mike, leave your car behind.

COUNTY GRAND JURY REPORT

ed and retrieved from amid general confusion. Recent records appear to be in good condition.

Our investigation has disclosed that over $3,000 has been illegally paid out by a former deputy in the office of the county auditor, the sum being extracted from a county trust fund into which the money had never been paid, and which did not contain sufficient money to cover the warrants. In order to complete the transaction it was necessary to transfer into this trust fund from the general fund a sum sufficient to avoid discovery, which constituted a falsification of the official records, and indicates a possible conspiracy to defraud.

We fail to understand why this $3,000 loss, audited and explicated four times, and overlooked although apparent on its face, escaped exposure. It is a new, separate and distinct offense, involving matters not included in the $46,000 embezzlements, but similar enough in character to have been detected.

For the money to have been paid out, it was necessary that an understanding exist between the county employee who falsified the records and juggled the trust funds, and those who benefited either entirely or in part by the theft.

After a painstaking investigation, including securing the opinion of competent legal talent, we are convinced that tens of thousands of dollars are being expended illegally each year in salaries to county employees, deputies and office personnel, in direct violation of the county charter and the state constitution.

Until the courts have passed upon each separate case and the law involved, only an approximation of the total figure is possible. Figures available to the grand jury would indicate that the Board of Supervisors, the auditor and the treasurer, have paid out or authorized for payment, some $48,000 in the past year alone, without a vestige of legal authority to do so. That the aggregate sum is greater, and that grave consequences will result unless legal action is taken to halt further payments on such illegal warrants, is the opinion of the grand jury. Suits to recover the large sums of money already paid out should be instituted.

The county charter under which we operate was approved and voted a law by the people of this county. It was not only a guide but a mandate to our supervisors and other elected officials. Efforts to justify such actions by arguments that public necessity warrants this violation is to our minds a dangerous procedure, which if carried to the ultimate conclusion, leaves the interpretation of all laws, not to the courts, but to the opinion of the individual citizen or official. We believe those in authority should set the example of strict respect for our laws.

Both the county charter and the state constitution provide that neither an elective nor appointive office head can have his salary increased or diminished during his term of office or subsequent to the date of his election. The supreme court has, time and again, by interpretation stated that an additional deputy who receives pay lightens the work of the head of the office and thus increases his salary. This is further evidenced and borne out by the fact that at the present time there is pending a proposed amendment to the constitution requiring the people's approval before supervisors and department heads can take such unwarranted authority.

Almost without exception we find county departments expending the taxpayers' money illegally, thousands of dollars of it each year, with no excuse except that the authority of the supervisors is behind them, and no explanation of from what source the supervisors derive such extraordinary powers, expressly forbidden by the people of the state when they adopted the constitution.

This condition, pervading practically every department, affects even the district attorney, who acts as legal advisor for the county, and has thousands of dollars appropriated and illegally expended in the conduct of his office. This statement is made herein explicitly with full knowledge of a contrary written opinion submitted by the district attorney himself to the auditor when the pay check of one of his deputies was held up.

In one county office the sum illegally expended amounts to over $11,000 a year, according to our advice, which must be confirmed by the courts. In other offices they range from a few hundred dollars to $3,000 annually. Every dollar of this money, in the opinion of the grand jury, should be recovered and turned back into the county treasury. County officials who have sanctioned the payments are liable to the full extent of their bonds.

The attention of the grand jury was directed to a flagrant violation in this particular in which the payment of increased salaries effective a month prior to even passage of an ordinance granting the same, the application of the ordinance itself being illegal at the time of its passage. 26 days after the increased salaries were made effective. This serves as an example of the general laxity and incompetency of the character of supervision given our public business. We are attempting to fix responsibility by requesting the district attorney herewith to proceed legally to effect recovery.

There exists a deplorable condition covering many years in public printing required by the county in its legal transactions. The agencies affected in a sense being public institutions, the moulders of public opinion, educative, disseminators of the daily doings of the people of our county, state and nation, holding up wrong doing to the light of day. It is grievous when such influences weaken the confidence of the people in their sincerity and integrity.

We recommend that in the future bids be called for in publishing the delinquent tax lists and other printing, and that the same be given to the lowest responsible bidder. No one agency covers more than a small proportion of the county, consequently some of our people must at all times go unaware of this publication.

The delinquent tax list for the year 1919 was submitted in June, 1920, by the Redlands Daily Facts. We submit the report of our auditor:

"We have measured the space, checked the rates and computed the tax. The space was correct in accordance with measurements at that time, but not correct in accordance with results attained by the 1924 grand jury on the publication of the 1923-24 delinquent tax list. And the rates and tax were incorrect.

"The authorized legal rate for publication of the delinquent tax list for year 1919 was 50 cents per square for first publication, and 25 cents per square for each subsequent insertion. The Facts used the rate of 75 cents and 45 cents, respectively, and there seems to be no reasonable excuse for this error. This erroneous computation was approved and passed by the county tax collector, the auditor, and approved and ordered paid by the Board of Supervisors, and not noted by the auditing company on the audit of that year. According to records, this list was only published three times. By reason of the incorrect rates being used, this bill was overcharged in the sum of $2,230.98.

"In the year 1923, the Redlands Facts published the delinquent tax list for the year 1922. On the bill of this year's publication they attempted to adjust the overcharge for the year 1919, giving as a reason therefor that it was a 'voluntary reduction,' implying it was an unnecessary concession on their part to the county, and was not even then correctly computed. The original bill as presented and paid was incorrect, and the fact that it was not properly audited by any county official did not establish the correctness of the bill by the Redlands Facts as the legal rates for this class of work had been passed by the Board of Supervisors in January, 1920, and has not since been changed."

The evidence seems to be this—that the Redlands Facts submitted an incorrect bill, overcharging the county $2,230.98 out of a total of $5,353.22, and that the supervisors, the tax collector, the auditor, the editor of the Facts, no one, apparently, was aware of the small item of $2,230.98 illegally charged up to the county and paid by its officials without demur. Official records show that the Facts retained this $2,230.98 overcharge for three years, until that paper received the new delinquent tax publication in 1923. At that time, some complications having arisen over the prior charge, the Facts made restitution of $1,289.00 to the county. So irregular was the bill and the method of procedure that the tax collector, Mr. C. Fulton Jones, accompanied it with a statement signed by him as follows: "Furthermore, this bill as far as I am concerned personally, is O. K. in every respect."

As far as county records today disclose, the Redlands Facts has overcharged the county and still owes as the apparent amount due in equitable settlement and restitution a total of $1,441.95, including interest for the three years it retained the taxpayers' money. The records are based upon a bill submitted by the Facts, showing three publications. A further inquiry has established that the bill of the Facts is incorrect even in this particular, as the delinquent list was published four

DELAY ORANGE SHOW BUILDING

Delay in the formal awarding of the contract for construction of the permanent home of the National Orange Show was caused yesterday by failure of the general committee to approve the new plans of the building. The size, location and equipment of the fruit and industrial sections was debated without a final decision being made. The committee will meet again this week to take up the matter.

There is no doubt, however, that the Anton Johnson company of Los Angeles, low bidder on the original plans of the building, will be awarded the contract, according to R. H. Mack, general manager of the show. As construction work will not be started until Sept. 1, there is no hurry in approving the plans, he said.

The building will measure 700 by 135 feet, will be of arch-truss construction and designated in the Spanish colonial style. Only minor alterations in the plans have been made.

times, although official records and submitted bills do not show this.

It is the opinion of the grand jury that the Facts does not owe the county the larger sum shown by an examination of the county's books, but that if that paper presents a proper and correct bill to officials, and an adjustment made, a further restitution of $864.34, covering interest and padding of the printing, will serve to close the incident and the taxpayers' interests will be subserved.

This situation does not apply to the Redlands Facts alone. A check of publication in 1922 of the delinquent tax list by the San Bernardino Sun disclosed a similar system of padding and that paper will be asked to make restitution to the county of $457.76 overcharge on its total bill of $4,577.69 submitted to the supervisors, the tax collector and auditor, and paid for the single printing job.

At the beginning of its work the grand jury held up payment of this year's delinquent tax publication by the Ontario Report until a reduction in charges and padding amounting to over $400 had been agreed upon. The proprietor in testifying before the grand jury said: "Why make me the goat? It has been done by all of us for years." The Ontario Report will be requested by the grand jury to reimburse the county an additional $435.36 for overcharges in 1921. This settlement has not been made.

As an example of the charges by these papers against the county, the San Bernardino Sun, sold on the streets for five cents a single copy, was sold to the county when several thousand copies were printed, at seven cents each. The Redlands Facts, following the same theory, compelled the county to pay five cents a copy, although it is advertised and sold as a three-cent paper, and the Ontario Report, also a three-cent paper, charged the county five cents.

There appears to be a lack of competition and interested supervision of details of the county's business. We find in many instances from the records that painting performed by day labor for the county has cost from $25 to $75 per gallon to spread. No same individual and no corporation would consider such an extortionate charge. Bills for painting at the county hospital, in courthouse offices and other county structures show the same general excessive costs, with apparently no effort to curb expenses.

Laxity in supervising expenditures and the handling of huge sums of public moneys is in our mind largely to blame for the criminal tendency which has injured the reputation of our public service during the last two years. Bills amounting to large totals are paid out without the approval of any official, without a receipt showing the goods or materials delivered and received, without an itemized statement showing the amounts and quality, without a purchase order or any authorization from the county purchasing agent or the Board of Supervisors.

A large number of such bills, each one illegal, each one irregular, each one an opportunity to defraud the county, have been gathered as evidence of the general laxity in supervision. The temptation to criminality is great, and while in many instances there is reason to believe that considerable more than mere clerical errors, carelessness and oversight is responsible, we again reiterate the declaration of the 1923 county grand jury, which said: "We can, and we do, hereby bring an indictment against the system which prevails in our courthouse, making the test of official life not efficiency but political affiliation." ONTARIO

Convention Reports

Reports of the convention of Rotary International at Toronto, Canada, earlier in the summer, featured yesterday afternoon's weekly luncheon of the Ontario Rotary Club at Hotel Casa Blanca.

John S. Armstrong, past president of the Ontario organization, told of the trip by special train from Los Angeles to Toronto and recited some amusing personal experiences, and President Glenn D. Smith reported on the doings of the convention proper. Both held the close attention of their hearers.

The pleasure of the meeting was added to by vocal solos by Miss Loma Kellogg of Sacramento, a visitor in the city, who was the special guest of the club yesterday.

Dies In Colorado

Word was received here yesterday of the death in Ouray, Colo., Wednesday of Joseph E. Warner of this city at the age of 66 years. Mr. Warner recently left Ontario to look after some business interests in Colorado and while there was taken suddenly ill and died.

J. B. Draper, Ontario mortician, was notified yesterday afternoon that the body of Mr. Warner would arrive in Ontario late Sunday or early Monday morning, coming by express. The decedent was an uncle of Mrs. Leona Stevens, 1138 East D street, and of Mrs. L. C. Van Alstine, 412 East G street.

Funeral services will be held from Draper's chapel Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the Rev. Paul E. Wright, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Sedan Is Wrecked

Lawrence A. Cornelius, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornelius, 853 East A street, narrowly escaped serious injury Wednesday evening and his father's sedan, which he was driving east on Ontario boulevard, was badly damaged when he collided at the intersection of Archibald avenue with a light motor truck.

Young Cornelius declared that the driver of the other machine stopped at his approach to the boulevard, presumably to allow him to pass, but as the youth started forward, the other car did likewise with disastrous results. Damage to the Cornelius car was estimated at $300.

Peach Run On

With a force of some 250 men and women the Ontario plant of the Cutler-Lobinger Packing Company in East Main street opened for its annual run on peaches this morning.

Much of the fruit to be handled this year is being shipped in from Banning district, the local crop being uncommonly light.

COUNTY GAINS IN AUTOMOBILES

Showing a remarkable gain in the number of automotive vehicles owned and operated, San Bernardino County ranks ninth among the counties of California in registration of cars and trucks, according to statistics issued yesterday by Will H. Marsh, chief of the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

The report shows that the whole state made a gain of 113,794 during this six-month period over 1923. The total registrations for 1923, inclusive of trailers, was 1,120,785. Registration for the six-month period of this year amounted to 1,234,579.

List All Vehicles Owned in County

Registrations were given in the report as follows: Automobiles, 1,036,713; solid trucks, 39,358; pneumatic trucks, 135,011; motorcycles, 10,975; trailers, 14,522.

Total registrations from San Bernardino County amounted to 27,468, inclusive of trailers. These were given as follows: Automobiles, 22,894; solid trucks, 997; pneumatic trucks, 2,820; motorcycles, 342; trailers, 415.

Practically all counties of the state made substantial gains over 1923. Los Angeles was first with a total of 493,281; San Francisco second with 35,862; Alameda third with 33,841.

Registrations in other counties up to tenth place follow in numerical order: Fresno, 47,194; San Diego, 41,047; Orange, 34,103; Santa Clara, 33,818; Sacramento, 30,723; San Bernardino, 27,028; San Joaquin, 26,273.
